Overview

Casa Alegria is a lovely four-bedroom villa is set in The Village, a popular residential area in Almancil, just a short distance from the beaches and amenities of Vale do Lobo. It's a comfortable, well laid out property that is perfect for families or groups of friends looking for a central but quiet base in this sought after part of the Algarve.

The main living area is open-plan, combining the well equipped kitchen and living space into one bright, sociable room. Two bedrooms are also on this level, sharing a bathroom, making it a practical layout for families or groups with a range of ages. Upstairs, there are two further bedrooms, both en-suite, offering a bit more privacy and natural light.

Spend your days at Casa Alegria relaxing in one of the two outdoor spaces. At the front, a swimming pool is ideal for long, sunny afternoons, while the back of the property offers a quieter spot for evenings. A BBQ area and outdoor dining space complete the setup, whether for a relaxed family meal or a seafood dinner outside.
