Overview

Ideally located in Pointe Milou, facing St. Barth’s windward side, Turtle Island, and the Atlantic Ocean, Villa Bonbonniere is sunlit and breezy. The villa’s open and airy living room features large and comfortable off-white sofas facing the terrace, the pool and the ocean view. At the back, the dining area for 4 people and the gourmet kitchen are located in the same room.

The master bedroom features a king-size bed with an en-suite bathroom and opens onto the terrace where you can enjoy the magnificent ocean views. The bedroom is air-conditoned and has a TV, DVD player, iPod connection and a safe. The en-suite bathroom has a rain shower as well as an outdoor shower.

Out on the deck is the infinity pool, outdoor shower as well as a kitchenette and gas BBQ. The terrace has comfortable seating and the perfect place to relax and enjoy the sunset.

Bonbonniere is perfect for honeymooners or a couple discovering the island for the first time, and can be rented in conjunction with the four-bedroom Villa Valentina.

Bonbonniere is located at Pointe Milou, which has long been regarded as one of the most stylish and desirable locales on St. Barth. Extending out into the Atlantic, villas on this promontory provide the perfect combination of privacy and fantastic views. Days at the beach are easy to plan from Pointe Milou, with the calm waters of St. Jean and the surf of Saline each around 10 minutes away. Grocery shopping in Lorient is even closer, and the drive to town takes about 15 minutes. A Pointe Milou location also brings one of the island's most popular nightlife destinations within just a two-minute drive.
