Overview

Perched above the Amalfi Coast, Villa Le Vigne is a characterful historic residence dating back to the 16th century. Its fortified exterior, thick stone walls and original watchtower reflect the building's heritage, while the recently renovated interiors offer a more romantic and sophisticated atmosphere. Set on a hillside overlooking the winding coastline and turquoise waters of the Mediterranean, the villa enjoys an exceptional sense of privacy, with numerous terraces and gardens designed to make the most of the panoramic sea views. Reached via a series of steps down from the road, it is a peaceful retreat for guests looking to enjoy the beauty of the Amalfi Coast away from the busier resorts.

Villa Le Vigne accommodates up to 10 guests across five bedrooms and five bathrooms. The main villa has three bedrooms on the first floor, including a king bedroom with a private terrace, panoramic sea views and a daybed, alongside a two-level king bedroom and a flexible king or twin bedroom, both with en-suite shower rooms. A further king bedroom is located in a separate wing, with direct access to a terrace and its own bathroom. The fifth bedroom sits independently at pool level and can be arranged with a king or twin beds. It has a private terrace, a walk-in wardrobe, two dressing areas and two bathrooms, making it particularly suitable for a couple seeking additional privacy or for young adults. All bedrooms are air conditioned and equipped with a safe, minibar and Smart TV. Inside the main house, an elegant dining room seats up to 12 guests, while the comfortable sitting room features plush sofas, a decorative fireplace and a flat-screen television. The fully equipped kitchen is complemented by a second, spacious kitchen in the separate wing, which enjoys a view and opens onto an outdoor pergola.

The outdoor spaces are a highlight of Villa Le Vigne, with multiple sea-facing terraces and terraced gardens providing plenty of room to relax and dine in the open air. Olive groves surround the property, while an organic vegetable garden adds to its Mediterranean character. The panoramic infinity-edge swimming pool measures 12m by 5m and features a whirlpool area, with a furnished sun deck and changing room nearby. A built-in barbecue and traditional pizza oven make outdoor entertaining easy, while the pergola provides a shaded setting for meals with family and friends. The villa also has outdoor showers, an indoor and outdoor speaker system, Wi-Fi, a dishwasher, and a washing machine and dryer. Daily housekeeping and continental breakfast are included, along with a welcome dinner on arrival and a daily minivan shuttle to and from Amalfi harbour. Pool heating is available at an additional charge.

Villa Le Vigne is well positioned for exploring the Amalfi Coast, with Amalfi around 20 minutes away by car and Conca dei Marini approximately 15 minutes away. Amalfi's historic centre is known for its cathedral, lively piazzas and waterfront restaurants, while nearby Praiano and Positano offer picturesque streets, boutiques and beautiful coastal views. Ravello, set high above the coastline, is renowned for its gardens and spectacular viewpoints. Boat trips provide a memorable way to explore the coast and reach the islands of Capri and Ischia, while Pompeii and Herculaneum offer fascinating insights into ancient Roman life.
