Overview

Coco Rock is a newly built villa and features 6 bedrooms with sweeping views of the surrounding area and spread over three separate bungalows.

While there's a strong character of Creole ease, there's also a contemporary aesthetic at the heart of the home's design, with polished concrete floors and a less-is-more approach to furnishings.

The home is nestled into the hillside at Petite Cul de Sac, on the most secluded corner of the island and natural woods are integrated into the design throughout.

Its 6 rooms, split into 3 bungalows in the heart of a lush garden, allow for hosting friends and family all the while ensuring perfect privacy for guests. Each bedroom has its own terrace and ocean views, a bathroom (some with outdoor shower) as well as TV, Ipod base, a refrigerator and safe.

The main villa boasts a dining room overlooking the black granite pool, as well as a majestic table made of Acacia wood from Java which can seat up to 16.

The infinity deck is perfect for relaxation but also makes for a perfect space for exercise like Yoga or Pilates. Guests can also relax on the outdoor sofas or in the indoor TV room.
