Overview

Stucktaymore Loch Tay is part of Stuckgowan Estate Collection of properties features 13 bedrooms. This stunning property is nestled in beautiful grounds extending to four acres. Lawns surround the house and there are sweeping views of Loch Tay in the Scottish Highlands.

Stucktaymore boasts 13 bedroom suites and can accommodate 29 guests. Most of the bedrooms are king, one has twin beds and three bedrooms have triple occupancy. There is a large modern fully-equipped kitchen with AGA and breakfast room just off the kitchen. Stucktaymore is very spacious across three levels and has excellent features for guests to relax. The dining room leads to the lounge area and you can enjoy the magnificent views. Doors lead out to the spacious terrace. The indoor dining area can seat 26 guests. A popular retreat is the large stone built "snug" with an open fire. The library is also accessible to guests and you can enjoy reading or playing a board game.

There is a media and entertainment room with 80' inch screen TV, DVD player and full sky package and Xbox One is ideal to keep all ages entertained. On the same level is a Games room with pool table leading to a bar area with views out to the lower Terrace for outdoor seating and dining. This level also hosts the 7 seater hot tub all overlooking Loch Tay.

The outdoors is as impressive as the interiors. There are woodlands to the west of the house and a tumbling burn cascades through the trees, crisscrossed by bridges linking the paths that meander through the magnificent variety of mature trees. Hidden in the woods there are three fire pits. The larger fire pit is perfect for a BBQ.

Loch Tay is a magnificent dark stretch of water, 15 miles (24 km) long and around 508 ft deep. It's the largest loch in Perthshire and one of the deepest in Scotland. To the north, the loch is flanked by the impressive bulk of the Ben Lawers mountain range, much of which is designated as a National Nature Reserve. Loch Tay is popular with sailing and water-sports enthusiasts and the small shingle beach near Kenmore is perfect for sunbathing.

Note: The property allows dogs to stay at no charge.
