Overview

Villa Hansa is a beautiful Apulian villa, designed around a historic Trullo complex. The architecture is an enticing mix of old and new, including original Trullo buildings as well as modern, luxury spaces. Surrounded by ancient olive groves, this is the ultimate authentic Italian escape.

The villa actually comprises of three separate buildings: the main villa, a boutique guest house, and a spacious annex. In the main villa, the stylish living room is perhaps the most impressive space, blending modern style with classic Italian touches ad benefitting from a calming, neutral palette. A plush corner sofa, hi-tech TV, and sleek dining area are provided for your comfort. To one side of the room, sliding doors can be opened to bring the outside in, giving direct access to the tranquil five-acre estate surrounding the residence. A modern kitchen is situated adjacent to the living room and is fully-equipped to modern standards.

Outside, the villa enjoys a peaceful setting within historic gardens. The impressive 16-metre outdoor pool is perfect for a cooling swim, while the two terraces with al fresco dining tables and loungers make it easy to find that perfect place to relax.
