Overview

Set among the ancient olive groves of Puglia, Villa Sera is a stylish countryside retreat combining traditional Apulian architecture with understated contemporary design. Surrounded by the region's characteristic white stone walls and silvery-green olive trees, the villa offers a peaceful setting for families or friends looking to experience southern Italy at a relaxed pace. The whitewashed city of Ostuni is just an eight-minute drive away, while the Adriatic coast and its clear waters are also within easy reach.

The villa accommodates up to eight guests across four bedrooms and four bathrooms, with the accommodation arranged over two floors. The interiors combine natural stone flooring, traditional star-shaped vaulted ceilings and ceramic details with simple, modern furnishings. On the ground floor, a comfortable sitting room with a fireplace connects to the dining area, while the well-equipped kitchen opens onto the outdoor terrace for easy indoor-outdoor living. This floor also includes a separate office with its own entrance from the garden, a laundry room and a guest bathroom. Upstairs, a second sitting room provides an additional place to relax and access to the two bedrooms on this level. All four bedrooms feature king-size beds, air conditioning and televisions, with en-suite shower rooms. The master bedroom on the first floor also opens onto a terrace with an outdoor Jacuzzi.

Outside, the private swimming pool is set within the enclosed grounds, surrounded by the olive grove and traditional white stone walls. Measuring 12 metres in length, the pool is ideal for cooling off during warm summer days, while the outdoor shower and sunbathing areas make it easy to spend long afternoons outside. A gazebo shelters the outdoor dining area, and a fully equipped outdoor kitchen with a barbecue makes relaxed meals in the open air a natural part of the stay. The first-floor Jacuzzi offers another spot to unwind, with views across the surrounding countryside.

Villa Sera is well placed for exploring Puglia's towns, coastline and food traditions. Ostuni, known as the White City for its whitewashed buildings and historic centre, is close by, with winding streets, independent shops and traditional restaurants to discover. The Adriatic coast is around an eight- to ten-minute drive away, while the coastal towns of Monopoli and Polignano a Mare are ideal for day trips, with waterfront restaurants, picturesque harbours and swimming spots. Alberobello, famous for its distinctive trulli houses, is also within driving distance.
