Overview

Welcome to Casa Grande del Mar, an exquisite luxury estate overlooking the breathtaking south Pacific coastline of Costa Rica. Nestled within a private and secure gated enclave spanning 17 acres, Casa Grande del Mar consists of two self-contained properties, each boasting an infinity pool. With 7000 square feet of sumptuous living space, the estate is the perfect option for two families travelling together, a group of friends, or a family with older children wanting their own space.

The light, airy, and stylish architectural design features high ceilings and glass walls that open outward, capturing the best natural light. The properties utilise the natural beauty of the surrounding jungle as a backdrop to frame this distinctive and unique estate. Smooth stone tiles frame the infinity pools and complement the dark wood finishes of the luxuriously comfortable sun loungers. The sleek, low glass walls that surround the terrace allow those relaxing to take in the rich blues and greens of the horizon.

The interiors of both houses are furnished with pieces that combine form and function, with luxurious sofas, plush rugs, and bed linens that offer a soft contrast to the clean, fresh lines of the tiled and wood-accented interiors. Both the main house and guest house have high end, fully equipped kitchens. Additionally, the outdoor BBQ and pizza oven are perfect for long, relaxed al-fresco meals . For those looking for another level of pampering, a private chef can be arranged upon request.

The four bedrooms are split across the two houses, which are connected by a walkway. Each bedroom has an ensuite shower room with glass walls overlooking the jungle, making you feel as if you were under a natural waterfall. An additional bathroom with an outdoor bathtub is the perfect place to immerse yourself in the sights and sounds of nature.
